DATE PREPARED 6 May 1952. REFERENCES 1. ENCLOSURES (No. & TYPE) REMARKS 5X1 1. On the afternoon of 8 April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of these planes was leaded with boxes, Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets, There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. 2. At neon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing moneplanes were parked in front of the open haggars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 3. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing moneplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Detween 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., these transports took off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Dosberitz airfield. 5X1  Commont. The report confirms that an air transport squadron equipped with Li-2s Is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft with the ground attack squadron from Dosberitz.	South 13	Approved For Release 2006/08/08 i GA-RDF-82,09457R012200350008-4 2 Cernany (Soviet Zone) REPORT NO.	25X′
DATE PREPARED 6 May 1952. REFERENCES 1. ENCLOSURES (No. & TYPE) REMARKS 5X1 1. On the afternoon of 8 April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of these planes was leaded with boxes, Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets, There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. 2. At neon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing moneplanes were parked in front of the open haggars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 3. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing moneplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Detween 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., these transports took off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Dosberitz airfield. 5X1  Commont. The report confirms that an air transport squadron equipped with Li-2s Is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft with the ground attack squadron from Dosberitz.	5X1	Staaken Airfield	Fallon Sz
DATE PREPARED 6 May 1952. REFERENCES 1. ENCLOSURES (No. & TYPE) REMARKS 5X1 1. On the afternoon of 8 April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of these planes was leaded with boxes, Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets, There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. 2. At neon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing moneplanes were parked in front of the open haggars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 3. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing moneplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Detween 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., these transports took off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Dosberitz airfield. 5X1  Commont. The report confirms that an air transport squadron equipped with Li-2s Is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft with the ground attack squadron from Dosberitz.	(extractional and a second		t-raped r
DATE PREPARED 6 May 1952. REFERENCES 1. ENCLOSURES (No. & TYPE) REMARKS 5X1 1. On the afternoon of 8 April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of these planes was leaded with boxes, Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets, There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. 2. At neon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing moneplanes were parked in front of the open haggars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 3. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing moneplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Detween 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., these transports took off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Dosberitz airfield. 5X1  Commont. The report confirms that an air transport squadron equipped with Li-2s Is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft with the ground attack squadron from Dosberitz.	5X1	- CORD CONTROL THE MALE STORMS AND	e.ove. re
REFERENCES 1 ENCLOSURES (No. a TYPE) REMARKS 1. On the afternoon of 8 April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken sirfield. At 6 p.m. one of those planes was leaded with boxes. Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets, There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both wost and southwest of the installation. 2. At neon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing monoplanes were parked in front of the open hangars, which appeared to be empty. It 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 2. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Detween 10:30 a.m., and 1:30 conducted flying together with the ground attack sireraft from Desberitz airfield. * Comment. The report confirms that an air transport squadron equipped with 11-25 is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft with the ground attack sauderon from Desberitz		・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・・	8. 64 83 1 17 10
REFERENCES 1 ENCLOSURES (No. a TYPE) REMARKS 1. On the afternoon of 8 April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken sirfield. At 6 p.m. one of those planes was leaded with boxes. Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets, There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both wost and southwest of the installation. 2. At neon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing monoplanes were parked in front of the open hangars, which appeared to be empty. It 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 2. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Detween 10:30 a.m., and 1:30 conducted flying together with the ground attack sireraft from Desberitz airfield. * Comment. The report confirms that an air transport squadron equipped with 11-25 is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft with the ground attack sauderon from Desberitz		DATE PREPARED 6 May 1952
PAGES 1 ENCLOSURES (No. & TYPE) REMARKS 1. On the afternoon of & April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of those planes was leaded with boxes, Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets, There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. 2. At noon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing monoplanes were parked in front of the open hangars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 3. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing monoplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Between 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., these transports text off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack sircraft from Doeberitz airfield. * Comment. The report confirms that an air transport squadron equipped with Li-2s is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft with the ground attack saugdron from Doeberitz	DEFEDENCE		Bright. u
1. On the aftermoon of 8 April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of these planes was leaded with boxes. Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets. There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. 2. At noon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing moneplanes were parked in front of the open hangars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 3. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing monoplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Between 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., these transports took off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Doeberitz airfield. * Comment. The report confirms that an air transport squadron equipped with 11-2s is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft with the ground attack squadron from Doeberitz.			e vindelpas ti
1. On the afternoon of 8 April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of those planes was leaded with boxes. Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets. There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. 2. At noon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing monoplanes were parked in front of the open hangars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 3. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing monoplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Between 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., these transports took off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Doeberitz airfield. * Comment. The report confirms that an air transport squadron equipped with II-2s Is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft with the ground attack squadron from Doeberitz.	PAGES	I ENCLOSURES (No. & TYPE)	.
1. On the afternoon of 8 April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of these planes was leaded with boxes. Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets. There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. 2. At noon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing monoplanes were parked in front of the open hangars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 3. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing monoplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Between 10:30 a.m., and 1:30 25X p.m., these transports took off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Doeberitz airfield. *         *	REMARKS	SECRETARIO DE LOS PORTOS DE LA CONTRA DEL CONTRA DE LA CONTRA DEL CONTRA DE LA CONTRA DEL CONTRA DEL CONTRA DE LA CONTRA DEL CONTRA DE LA CONTRA DE	aller service e
1. On the afternoon of 8 April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of these planes was leaded with boxes. Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets. There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. 2. At noon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing monoplanes were parked in front of the open hangars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 3. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing monoplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Between 10:30 a.m., and 1:30 25X p.m., these transports took off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Doeberitz airfield. * ** ** ** ** ** ** ** ** *
1. On the afternoon of 8 April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of these planes was leaded with boxes. Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets. There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. 2. At noon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing monoplanes were parked in front of the open hangars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 3. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing monoplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Between 10:30 a.m., and 1:30 25X p.m., these transports took off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Doeberitz airfield. * Comment. The report confirms that an air transport squadron equipped with Li-2s is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft with the ground attack squadron from Doeberitz	aggereration and the collection of the collectio
1. On the afternoon of 8 April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of these planes was leaded with boxes. Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets. There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. 2. At noon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing monoplanes were parked in front of the open hangars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 3. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing menoplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Between 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 25X p.m., these transports took off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Doeberitz airfield. *         *	5X1	was and the contract of the co	FT 97 1891117
1. On the afternoon of 8 April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of those planes was leaded with boxes. Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets. There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. 2. At noon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing monoplanes were parked in front of the open hangars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 3. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing monoplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Between 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 25X p.m., these transports took off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Doeberitz airfield. *  Comment. The report confirms that an air transport squadron equipped with Li-2s is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft with the ground attack squadron from Doeberitz.			Walk 44 / 10
1. On the afternoon of 8 April 1952, five Li-2s were observed in the southeastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of those planes was leaded with boxes. Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets. There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. 2. At noon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing monoplanes were parked in front of the open hangars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 3. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing monoplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Between 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 25X p.m., these transports took off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Doeberitz airfield. *  Comment. The report confirms that an air transport squadron equipped with Li-2s is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft with the ground attack squadron from Doeberitz.
eastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of these planes was leaded with boxes. Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets. There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. 2. At noon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing monoplanes were parked in front of the open hangars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. 3. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing monoplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double rudder assembly were observed at the field. Between 10:30 a.m., and 1:30 p.m., these transports took off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Doeberitz airfield. *         *	:5X 1 conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Doeberitz airfield. * Comment. The report confirms that an air transport squadron equipped with Li-2s is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft with the ground attack squadron from Doeberitz	² •	eastern corner of Stacken airfield. At 6 p.m. one of these planes was leaded with boxes. Fifteen soldiers were seen near these aircraft. Forty air force soldiers fell in in front of the airfield billets. There was no flying. A radio installation with four masts was seen both west and southwest of the installation. At noon on 19 April, eight Li-2s and four single-engine, high-wing monoplanes were parked in front of the open hangars, which appeared to be empty. At 10:35 a.m., one Li-2 took off to circle over the field. On 17 April, 9 twin-engine DC-3 transports, 2 single-engine, high-wing menoplanes and 1 twin-engine plane without windows and fitted with a double	25X with Li-2s is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft with the ground attack squadron from Doeberitz		p.m., these transports took off individually or in groups of two and conducted flying together with the ground attack aircraft from Doeberitz airfield.]
	5X1 *	with Li-2s is located at the field. The cooperation of these aircraft	25≯]
	25X1		1

CLASSIFICATION SECRET/COM.ROL/US OFFICIALS ONLY/SECURITY INFORMATION